1	Poor judges. They lacked experience in bird placement and fair judging	9/13/2024 11:38 AM
2	Except for the traffic, it was a beautiful area of our country that I would have never visited.	9/13/2024 9:30 AM
3	Well organized, grounds were terrific, set ups challenging and fair, judging fair.	9/12/2024 11:29 AM
4	Very professional. It's a tremendous amount of work for the volunteers so things will not go perfectly and people need to adapt, relax, and enjoy. Everything worked out perfectly and the weather was as good as it gets.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
5	I felt that the registration/store/meeting day could have been shortened way up. There was a lot of wasted time waiting around in between events.	9/7/2024 10:40 AM
6	The Welcome Dinner /Raffle /Store all needed serious help! Store was very under stocked! The Dinner.....very unorganized and Late. The no alcohol rule.....trust me you lost more money from people visiting the fair garden during the auction than it would have cost to buy the damn permit. Rumors were dinner was going to be made by Julie Cairns and not catered. Julie is a good cook..... for a weekend event. NOT A NATIONAL! If you want to run with the big dogs, then train like the big dogs. Welcome dinner ambience, location, and disorganization left me	9/7/2024 9:45 AM

with the impression it was handled like a double header Master Event instead of a National Event. Region 4 people and those who attended are not second class to other Regions. The perception was the event was downscaled because of lack of attendance, which is common for west region National Events. C'mon——at a Fairgrounds WHILE a carnival/fair is going on. Terrible

7	Well run and good and fair judging	9/7/2024 9:12 AM
8	The event itself and the grounds were very good. The judges did a great job of setting up challenging tests. The pre event planning and the overall execution of the event, the opening ceremony, and the quality and quantity of merchandise and raffle items was lacking.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM
9	Ran smoothly and a great time	9/6/2024 9:48 PM
10	No place to air dogs was big disappointment.	9/6/2024 6:10 PM
11	The judges quit judging the blind in the 5 th and 6 series. Dogs that went out in the early series for blinds not as bad as what qualified is a shame. This event is supposed to have the best of the best and not leave a bad taste with handlers. This also deteriorates the MARC event.	9/6/2024 4:19 PM

1	The grounds were groomed and provided excellent opportunities to provide a challenging experience	9/13/2024 11:38 AM
2	Good diverse terrain	9/13/2024 9:30 AM
3	Excellent.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
4	The grounds were utilized very well by the judges. The growth between set up and test time caused a lot of dogs/handlers to struggle keeping their dog in view. This put judges and handlers in a corner as the weak and heat went on. It became obvious the judges tempered their judging standards down as the grass grew taller.	9/7/2024 9:45 AM
5	Having Gary Abbott there who was very familiar with the grounds and knew "the rules" of the grounds was very helpful to those of us setting up for the event. The owners were very accommodating despite the bad weather the week before the event started.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM
6	Thanks Gary Abbot	9/6/2024 9:48 PM
7	Not a lot of acreage, but a lot of varied and interesting terrain and water features for the judges to work with	9/6/2024 7:29 PM

8 The terrain is amazing. There were numerous times that dog visibility was an issue but it was a very wet spring and mowing and trimming were difficult.

There are people who travel great distances to get to the event. A 40-45 min drive from accommodations to/from is no big deal at that point. Broaden the scope of what lodging is included in premium and let the handlers decide.	9/7/2024 9:45 AM

1	Extremely challenging. I do feel that they were so challenging that the judges had to become more lenient in their scoring or the pass rate would have been extremely low. I noticed in the later series the judges carried dogs that typically would be dropped.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
2	The most complex and tight set ups I personally have ever run at a National Level event. Perhaps that is what MARC was after. The reputation of one of the judges is just what we saw....all marks/blinds can be put on postage stamp. And that's why that judge doesn't get called to judge as much. Seriously, splash bird 30 feet from line in 6th series? If they haven't judged dogs for steadiness at that point, there's a problem. 6th isn't a gimmie, but it's generally not an eliminator for steadiness. Marking, blind work, perseverance, and sticky mouth type issues YES.	9/7/2024 9:45 AM
3	Very challenging tests! Some there were disappointed by the pass rate, however, I think the tests were judge fairly resulting in the pass rate. I do not feel that there was ever a "trick" introduced by the judges just good bird placement and mark to mark or mark to blind influence.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM

1	Judges should have continued to judge blinds like they started. Some blinds run in the 6th series would not have passed in even a weekend test.	9/13/2024 5:54 PM
2	Lacked fair decisions	9/13/2024 11:38 AM
3	I thought the judges were exceptional. Very fair and competent. Great choice.	9/13/2024 9:48 AM
4	The judges adapted and I believe were as fair as possible to work with dogs and handlers.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
5	I think there were some inconsistencies in the judging.	9/7/2024 5:52 PM
6	I say unfair only because my dog should have been out in the 6th series and wasn't. I saw dogs repeatedly creep into the 4th, 20' on one dog and it was the dogs 4th time creeping, they carried that team and dog plated. That's not a cover issue, so it gave the perception that judges were instructed to 'stand down' or something like that on their judging. That's not fair to the dogs who work hard at controlling/training their dog to eliminate any faults to be judged upon. That's unfair. And if rumors are true.....shame on the MARC HT committee!	9/7/2024 9:45 AM

1	Cover where needed to provide good bird placement and ability to judge dogs abilities	9/13/2024 11:38 AM
2	Test scenarios have become much more complex and technical than what is realistic in a hunting scenario. I'm okay with that as I want to continue to be challenged so that I can become a better trainer to my dogs and a better handler. This is why I prefer AKC hunt tests over HRC.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
3	Qualification: The tests in a hunt test are very seldom "hunting scenarios" anymore as marks are out to 150 yards (never killed a bird that far out in 50+ years of hunting). I will say that hunting elements appeared in every test be it heavy cover, birds thrown cross wind, birds thrown inward, quartering away, etc.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM

1	5th series was not ready to go and they wasted time trying to figure out what to change and sent the contestants home. In the morning they ended up changing very little.	9/13/2024 5:54 PM
2	Too big of moves between series.	9/11/2024 4:00 PM
3	I do think some of the days ran longer than they should have. Judges, volunteers and handlers were wiped out. 12 hours in the sun and heat is tough.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
4	Not perfect, but pretty good	9/7/2024 5:52 PM
5	I think that accomplishing this is as much a function of the hunt test committee and setup crew as it often is of the judges. Had the weather cooperated, the first three (3) series would have required no or minimal movement of the crowd/gallery/parking! As it was, there ended up being a pretty big move between series 2 and 3 and then 3 and 4, otherwise moves were small. Having enough equipment and the series positioned relative to one another to allow us to stay a minimum of one series ahead with setup really improves time management. We only had a couple of issues with this in WA. The judges organized their marks, blinds, etc to maximize time management with the exception of series 4 which was very clunky to and from the line holding blinds and exiting the test.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM
6	No 3 hour delay between 4. And 5 series	9/6/2024 4:19 PM

1	Boogie, John, Mark and Jeff did an excellent job.	9/11/2024 4:00 PM
2	Up until the judges backed off on their standard of judging, which became obvious by the 4th series. In one series, when wind significantly changed the fall of the birds, there was adjustment of the wingers to keep the fall of the bird in its intended locations....on the top of the islands. Instead, when the wind moved the birds behind the islands and behind the cover and into the marsh behind the islands, the dogs were out of sight until they either popped out into the channel or up the levee without the bird (automatic handle) or by the luck of the fall, they returned to you with the bird.	9/7/2024 9:45 AM

1	Why would you do this? Set up a good test and judge accordingly	9/13/2024 11:38 AM
2	It was extremely challenging. More difficult than any MN that I have ran.	9/8/2024 5:34 PM
3	Not sure I agree this was noticeably apparent.	9/7/2024 5:52 PM
4	We've run into cover growth issues before in MO this time of year. Only this time there was no alternative on knocking down some of the cover. My dog stands 26" at the withers and at the first series his head could not be seen through the cover to the marks.	9/7/2024 9:45 AM
5	High cover actually created some difficulty for dogs in series 1 IF they would not persevere through the cover and then series 3 was very difficult for dogs who didn't do bridge marks or quartering in throws well. Overall, if you look at the series to series pass rate, you would see that series 3 was the first big cut and that the cuts got smaller from there on even though the difficulty of the tests increased in especially 5 and 6. I think that indicates that weaker dogs left the field in the 3rd series.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM

And the delay in catering arriving added to the mayhem. Finally a business man who plays at MARC events realized what was happening and started the auction before the entire room was empty. Most people left to get Fair Food and drinks after waiting nearly an hour. Poor management there.	9/7/2024 9:45 AM
6	Not so much what was offered, but in combination with the poor execution of the food and overall events, the raffle and auction were poorly attended and poorly participated in.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM

1	No one knew where the awards ceremony was. It looked like a hastily thrown together event. I have seen weekend events more thought out.	9/13/2024 5:54 PM
2	LOVED the online streaming of the tests by Mike Heard. Major KUDOs for Mike. Hope you can do that again.	9/7/2024 8:14 PM
3	I would have appreciated a call before awards that we had NOT passed. Apparently we were out on the last blind of the last test, so it would have been nice to know that before the ceremony	9/7/2024 5:52 PM
4	The Live Stream was an awesome added communication piece! Mike Heard did a great job! Kudos! Great decision there!!	9/7/2024 9:45 AM
5	This portion of the event went very well and I think excited members for future events. I've heard nothing but very positive input regarding these activities.	9/7/2024 7:39 AM
